Clocks Fall Back – Turn your clock back 1 hour tonight before going to bed to end daylight saving time. Eastern Stand Time returns at 2 AM on Sunday. Ohio is among 18 states pushing to observe daylight saving time permanently, but apparently not yet. The USA as a whole can only abandon the period if Congress enacts a federal law. If the bill becomes law, clocks will change for a final time to DST in March 2024 permanently.

Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary Offers New Training Opportunities

– The Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary at Andrews University is launching three new initiatives impacting the Master of Divinity (MDiv) Program. With a new concentration, another dual degree, and a cohort offered entirely in Spanish, the Seminary is opening even more doors for training opportunities. Pastoring in major cities can seem like a daunting task, but with this concentration, emerging pastors will be able to enter metropolitan areas with better tools and resources. Furthermore, when pastors graduate and begin working in the field, professionals will continue to support them, mentoring them in their first few years of ministry wherever they go.
